DESCRIPTION

Originally conceived and engineered to meet the high standards of the Japanese NKK Classification society, SENSEI ("mentor" in Japanese) was built for the CEO of Mitsubishi Heavy Industries. In 1995 the vessel was acquired by an American and underwent a substantial refit and extension at world class fibreglass builder Admiral in the U.S Pacific under the direction of the award winning designer Glade Johnson.

With the current owner, a € 2.6 Mil. major refit was performed in two stages, 2006 and 2007, by the world well known Benetti Shipyard in Italy, with a complete refit in the engine room including a major engines rebuilt and the reconstruction of many other areas and also an update of the navigation equipment and communication necessary to accomplish the MCA classification.

SENSEI is an economical to run, go-anywhere cruising yacht ideally suited for either private or charter use.
